

Editorial – v. 3, n. 6

We present the sixth number of the third volume of the South Florida Journal of Development (SFJD).

The SFJD arose from the perception of professors and researchers about the need to create new scientific vehicles whose mission is the dissemination of research on development, not only in Brazil, but also in the world. In this sense, this new scientific journal was created.

This number, as well as all the previous ones, brought important contributions to the area of development. Access and check it out!

This edition was carefully thought out and organized by the Editor-in-Chief Prof. Dr. Edilson Antonio Catapan until 06/12/2022.

As of that date, the South Florida Journal of Development (SFJD) counts as the new Editor-in-Chief, Dr. Daniel Molina Botache.

We wish it to be pleasant reading.

Prof. Dr. Daniel Molina Botache
Editor-in-Chief